

Facebook.com: Using Window-Eyes and the new Web Application Mode

This worksheet is a supplemental resource for the Window-Eyes webinar on using Facebook.com and the new Web Application Mode. Please review the learning objectives and review questions below to help reinforce key concepts covered during the webinar training.

Learning Objectives

- Learn about Facebook's accessibility program
- Review the layout and structure of Facebook.com
- Understand the purpose and benefits of Web Application Mode
- Discover how to enable and disable Web Application Mode
- Learn how to use Facebook.com keyboard shortcuts
- Practice completing common Facebook.com tasks

Review Questions

1. What web browser is currently recommended for accessing Facebook.com with Window-Eyes and why?

Answer: Firefox, ARIA support is more robust and accurate

2. What type of HTML element is used on Facebook.com to aid screen reader navigation and create an outline like structure for web page content?

Answer: Headings

3. True or False. Facebook.com uses ARIA landmarks to provide a way for screen reader users to navigate more quickly to key sections of the web page.

Answer: True

4. True or False. When Browse Mode is on, commands issued from the keyboard are passed through to the web page and browser.

Answer: False

5. What is Web Application Mode?

Answer: A special screen reader mode that allows you to use a web page's keyboard shortcuts in Browse Mode.

6. What is the default Window-Eyes hot key to toggle Web Application Mode on and off?

Answer: Control-Insert-A

7. What is the Facebook.com keyboard shortcut used to post a new status update?

Answer: P

8. What are the Facebook.com keyboard shortcuts for navigating to the next and previous story in the News Feed?

Answer: J and K

9. In Firefox, what combination of modifier keys do you use with the Facebook.com navigation access keys 0 through 9?

Answer: Alt and Shift

10. In Firefox, what is the Facebook.com keyboard shortcut used to switch to Friends?

Answer: Alt-Shift-3